

“Give us MORE!!!

That’s what some of our people have been saying about your presentation last Friday!

They loved you!

They said you were fun!

They said you were sincere!

They want you back!

What can I say except, ‘I agree!’ ”

– the greatest competition you’ll ever face!

Competitive Balance™

Where intensity meets inner peace and momentum explodes!

“Being alone is a state of body,
Being lonely is a state of mind.”

KAZ

What's It All About?

KAZ's programs on Competitive Balance™ will show your people how to increase their intensity and take charge of their work and their lives. KAZ studies basic principles from various teachings throughout the world, combines them with her wisdom and experience, and ignites audiences to reach new levels of potential. Your participants will experience benefits of enhanced awareness, acceptance, action, and accountability for making changes in their lives. Many changes are often immediate due to the choices people will make on how to live and work more productively...and on fire!

For years we've seen promotions for "bigger and better" or "new and improved" products and services. Now you can learn what the elite in every industry know, it's not about the product, the service, the sport, or the talent. It's about YOU! The one integral factor that all great achievers possess is an understanding of how to blend the good and the "not so good" characteristics of their life into a winning formula that works for them every time!

Competitive Balance™ shows you how to determine where you are, where you want to be, and how to get there using a combination of your talents and universal truths. It's blending the intensity of passion, power, and positive energy with a level of inner peace and self satisfaction few people have come to live.

Look Who's Talking

"Having participated in many strategic planning and team building courses – this was the most amazing of them all. KAZ took a room of the most jaded, negative, 'it has always been done this way' people and transformed them into positive, motivated, contributing and bouncing off the walls with ideas to move the company forward team. KAZ's delivery is an experience that is filled with energy and keeps everyone on their toes. I would highly recommend her to anyone wishing to advance themselves or their organization with an energy that is second to none!"

"Our appreciation is based upon your cooperation and professionalism not only in your presentation but also in the preparation leading up to it. As you are aware, your presentation was an outstanding success! Our members were excited and impressed by the way you were able to weave aspects and occurrences of our conference into your own message. This was obviously due to your preparation and knowledge of our members and their background. What else can be said, your summation of our conference will be remembered for many conferences to come."

"When I practice Competitive Balance™ my life is magical, and when I don't... it's mediocre." KAZ

Meet Macayla my niece, and Brandon my nephew. The absolute loves of my life!

Visual version of Competitive Balance™ (I'm on the right and one of my athletes is on the left) I still think things look soooo uncomfortable.

Mama's little baby boy – Kocheesse. He's in charge of the "Customer Huggin' and Lovin' Department"!

Me having a ball on stage while participants serenade me with a rap song they created as a thank you for their customized presentation.
