

KAZ

KAZ, is an international speaker, best selling author and coach (both pro-sports and Olympics) known to many throughout the world as the “Queen of Questions”. She combines her raconteur nature and energizing personality with a flair for creativity and fun, to enlighten the hearts and minds of people everywhere.

KAZ works with entrepreneurs, professional managers, CEO’s, Managing Directors, Olympic athletes and even teenagers on exceeding their potential through “Competitive Balance – How to out-think, out-do and out-live your competition!”

Her focus is to bring greater clarity; congruency and connection to everyone she meets, so they can live a more passionate, powerful purpose. KAZ has experienced being broke and broken, homeless and hopeless and chose to create a life that is hoppin’, happenin’ and genuinely happy. She’ll share with you key points to living a life full of laughing, learning and loving.

KAZ,’s approach is simple, down-to-earth, incredibly active and fun. She takes everyday happenings at work and in life, and relates them into very useable “mind morsels” of information. She describes herself as a PhD who’s B.A.D. (boogyin’ and dancin’)

In her own words, “I work with people who want to BE more and organizations that want to DO more. And, I’d also rather wear out than rust out!”
